Wishes and Curses

A Journey into the World of Fairies,
Witches and Wizards

- An exhibition for the whole family -

25/10/17 - 18/03/18

Within the Special Exhibition Wishes and Curses - A Journey into the World of Fairies, Witches and Wizards the Augsburg Puppet Theatre Museum brings its visitors closer to the multifaceted world of wishing, which lies inbetween the magical atmosphere of enchanted fairy tales and everyday life. Exhibits from the Augsburg Puppenkiste, national puppet theatres from Bautzen, Schwäbisch Hall, Munich or Krailling, as well as international loans from Great Britain, Austria and Spain, tell about cursed princesses, enchanted fish princes or children, wishing themselves into the wonderful land of wishes. Throughout all times, wishes and curses, have also been connected with certain beliefs about miracles, faith, magic, witchcraft and sorcery. This is exemplified by exhibits from the Witch Archive in Hamburg.

Within this special exhibition, scientific support is given to the museum by Dr. Klaus Wolf from the University of Augsburg, Professor of German Literature and Language of the Middle Ages and the Early Modern Period, with special focus on Bavaria.

The new special exhibition of the Augsburg Puppet Theatre Museum invites its visitors to deal with stories relating to all kinds of wishes. These include good wishes, Christmas wishes, everyday wishes, but also unfulfilled desires which many people cannot fulfill for themselves.

And yet, in spite of this, the Augsburg Kasperl and the Sams have come up with something very special to make sure that some wishes can be fulfilled after all. Just visit the Augsburg Puppet Theatre Museum »die Kiste«!
